

Bachelor of Mass Communication (BMCM) - BMassCom

CRICOS code (International applicants): 040075E

This program is offer

Career opportunities

Our graduates are working in radio, television, online and print media, throughout Australia and overseas. They include news and specialist reporters, columnists, commentators, copywriters, producers, sub-editors, editors, newsreaders and presenters. Journalism skills are also valued in public relations, publishing, law, commerce and business – where experienced journalists have become media officers, publishers, editors, speechwriters for government officials, politicians and executives, and corporate communicators.

Public relations major

Students gain the skills and knowledge to review communication policies within an organisation and develop and implement communication programs and strategies. This major will also equip students with skills required in the industry, such as issues management, specialist writing, how to create public awareness campaigns and how to improve public and media relations. Students will identify communication problems of organisations through appropriate research and strategic planning.

Career opportunities

Most organisations recognise the importance of public relations to ensure the support of the public, media, government and their own staff. Opportunities exist in the areas of corporate public relations, consulting, government organisations, lobby groups, fund-raising, publicity and promotion, and community development. This program is accredited by the Public Relations Institute of Australia (PRIA).

Program aims

This program aims to produce graduates who have a mastery of a range of communication industry skills, supported by extensive contextual studies in communication/media theory, and professional skills in preferred areas of journalism, public relations, media production (continuing students only), organisation and business communication (continuing students only) and creative multimedia.

The program allows specific emphasis on those skills of a mass communication nature that produce graduates who have:

- a general understanding and appreciation of the complexities of human thought, expression and behaviour in a variety of subject areas
- devv
